We do not use Malware Scanning.

We do not use an SSL certificate

- We only provide articles and information. We never ask for personal or private information like names, email addresses, or credit card numbers.

COPPA (Children Online Privacy Protection Act)

When it comes to the collection of personal information from children under the age of 17 years old, the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) puts parents in control. The Federal Trade Commission, United States' consumer protection agency, enforces the COPPA Rule, which spells out what operators of websites and online services must do to protect children's privacy and safety online.

We do not specifically market to children under the age of 17 years old.

Do we let third-parties, including ad networks or plug-ins collect PII from children under 17?

Fair Information Practices

The Fair Information Practices Principles form the backbone of privacy law in the United States and the concepts they include have played a significant role in the development of data protection laws around the globe. Understanding the Fair Information Practice Principles and how they should be implemented is critical to comply with the various privacy laws that protect personal information.
